Variable Speed Control—
an ideal solution
for bed maneuverability.*

A power-assisted system for the TotalCare® Bed

Transporting patients in an acute care environment is a challenging task. With the TotalCare IntelliDrive™ Variable Speed Control, a touch of a button and minimal effort, one caregiver can effortlessly transport a patient. When transport is required, simply unplug the bed, release the brake, grip the handles and go.

TotalCare IntelliDrive™ Variable Speed Control

Ease of Operation

Operation of the variable-speed control can easily be initiated by the touch of a hand, and start-up forces are virtually eliminated. The drive can stop as easily as it starts – simply release the handle.

With little effort, one caregiver can move even a 450 lb. (204 kg) patient on a carpeted surface, with no appreciable difference in start-up force, mobility and maneuverability. The short wheelbase provides the ability to perform 180° turns with ease and, by use of the TotalCare IntelliDrive™ control, it's never been easier to navigate through obstacles, go around corners and achieve 90° turns with a hospital bed.¹

What's more, the benefits of potentially reduced risk of injury to patients and staff, as well as restoration of caregivers' time may be affected since the TotalCare IntelliDrive™ control helps minimize the need to transfer patients to stretchers for transport.

Need to simplify patient transport? The TotalCare IntelliDrive™ variable-speed control, from Hill-Rom, is the obvious solution.

Handles store unobtrusively at the head of the bed.
